

Think Tank:

Building sustainable high-performance cultures in the legal profession

The pressures faced by those in the legal profession are widely recognised. Challenge, change and uncertainty make regular appearances in day to day work, meaning optimising a healthy, sustainable and high-performing workforce remains difficult in the legal profession.

The subject of wellbeing is now being talked about more openly, with many firms looking for strategies that not only deal with work-related stress, but focus on wider mental health issues and preventative measures.

We invite you to join Talking Talent at our upcoming Think Tank “Building sustainable high-performance cultures in the legal profession” on December 5th 2017, from 8:30am to 10:30am at The Lansdowne, London. Joining Talking Talent will be wellbeing expert Elizabeth Rimmer, CEO of LawCare, the organisation committed to supporting mental health/wellbeing in UK and Ireland's legal communities.

The Think Tank will bring together business leaders in Human Resources, Corporate Wellbeing and Diversity & Inclusion to:

- Explore the situation in the legal profession - what firms are experiencing and what is driving the current picture
- Examine the systemic barriers inhibiting optimum workforce wellbeing and performance
- Share current best practices and future ideas on improving holistic wellbeing and performance
- Consider the enablers to bring about effective and meaningful change for the betterment of culture and performance in the legal community
- Agree steps that can be taken to make changes and enhance organisational performance and sustainability

There are a limited number of spaces available and we would love you to join us, so please register for your place as soon as possible by emailing karen.macmillan@talking-talent.com.

Previous Think Tanks have proved a tremendous success, with engaging and open discussion creating real added value and clear takeaways for all participants. We hope to see you there.

Yours sincerely,
Rob Bravo
Director of Wellbeing
